SHOT BY MISS DEAR

A SON OF BREWER KEARNEY DESPERATELY WOUNDED.

The Jenious Young Woman Tried to Kill Her Lover Because He Told Her that He was to Marry Another.

Two sharp reports from a revolver fired in rapid succession were beard soon after 12 o'clock Monday night in Park street, between Turtle and Bear streets. Some of the neighbors who were awakened by the reports rushed to the scene and found Joseph F. Kearney lying on the sidewalk in a semi-conscious condition and blood oozing from the left side of his head. The shooting is said to have been done by Lizzie Dear, but she was not present when the neighbors arrived. The injured man was taken to the home of Hugh McShane at No. 1,613 Park street, and Dr. M. B. Fairchild was summoned, It could not be determined at the time how serious the wounds were because of the profuso bleeding from the wounded man's left ear. Kearney was afterward removed to the home of his father, William Kearney, the brewer, at No. 1,508 Park street. It was thought that the wounds might prove fatal, and the Rev. John F. Mullaney was sent for. Then in the presence of Doctor Fairchild, Father Mullaney, Justice Allis and William Barnes, the injured man made this antemortem statement at 3 o'clock that morn-

Officer O'Neil heard of the shooting and sent word to the Police headquarters, and gether with several other officers, drove to the scene in the patrol wagon.

On learning of the condition of Kearney and that he claimed that the shooting was done by Lizzie Dear, the police went to the home of the girl's father, father, Mr. Dear seemed surprised when the officers said what had happened, and be conducted them to the girl's apartments, where they found Lizzie in bed and, apparently, asleep. Her clothes were searched, but no traces of the revolver asleep. Her clothes were could be found. Lizzie denied all knowledge of the shooting and insisted that she had not seen Kearney since Thursday last. She was, nevertheless, placed in the pairol wagon and taken to the Station | Thirty Wyoming Colliers Have Surely House, where she continued to protest ber

Lizzie Dear is a blonde, about twentytwo years old and rather prepossessing in appearance. During the last two years she has been at home on account of the illness of her mother, who is now in a critical condition from heart trouble and rheumatism. the peace and good order of our village and the town of Schræppel if allowed to go on;

threfore Resolved, First, that we as citizens deem it our imperative duty to unite and piedgo oursolves for the moral and religious protection of our children, homes and community; to use all lawful means in our power to prevent nil such violations of law and to bring to justice all offenders; and furthermore, we will unite in the enforcement of the excise laws against illegal sale of all intoxicating

Revolved, That we unite in voice, influence and means in securing legal counsel, if needed, and communicating with the District Attorney and Sheriff of Oswego county, requesting them to use their official influence to prevent all such unlawful assemblies on the Lord's day.

DVING IN LITTLE FALLS.

Went Away From Her Home to Avoid Disgrace.

LITTLE FALLS, April 23.-Ellen Franes Hellan, a young woman who says her home is in Syracuse, lies at the point of death at the Hinchman House from the result of a criminal operation. The operation was performed, it is claimed, on March 22d by a woman who lives at Van Hornersville. Dr. S. A. Ingham of this village was called on April 1st, but on learning the nature of the case declined to act. On the following Tuesday, April 8th, he was called again and found that Miss Captain of the Night Watch Quigley, to- Hellan was suffering from cerebral congestion. IMPRISONED IN A MINE.

Perlahed.

CHEYENNE, Wy., April 23 .- Thirty men are now imprisoned in the Rock Spring coal mine, No. 4, which is on fire, and it is almost certain that all are dead.

The mine was discovered to be on fire at 1 A. M. yesterday, and at 9 o'clock, when the flames began to spread rapidly, the men were ordered to the surface. They had scarcely begun to ascend from the searching party to go to the rescue of the men below had disappeared when another explosion occurred, followed by three others in rapid succession. Seven of the searchers were injured, one past recovery. A dozen more volunteers descended and brought up six insensible Chinamen, of whom one died in a few minutes. They saw ten other Chinamen lying prostrate. Smoke began to issue in a large volume from all the entrances, and further attempts to save the men imprisoned below were abandoned. There are still at least thirty men in the mine, mostly Chinese. All the entrances to the mine have been closed in order to keep the fire within certain bounds.

the Syracuse-Skaneateles water bill. Leader Sheehan, who had his nose deep in his file of bills, apparently in deep study. hearing the word Skaneateles sprang to his feet with alarm sitting on every wrinkle of his intelligent brow, "What is that, what is that?" he ejaculated in a frenzied voice.

The Chair, Whipple of Cattaraugus, replied in a soothing voice, "The Syracuse water bill is on its final passago."

Then Mr. Sheeban, grasping his blus book in one hand and flourishing the extended fingers of the other high in the nir, exclaimed, "A point of order, Mr.

"The gentleman from Erio will state his point of order," coolly remarked the Chair. Sheehan-Has this bill been reported from the committee on engressed bills?

The Chair-This is a Senate bill and does not need to be reported from the committee on engrossed bills. Mr. Sheeban-Has this bill been reported from the committee on revision? The Chair-Being a Senate bill it does not need to be so reported. This colloquy had given Mr. Sheehan time to bunt in his Blue book. He did not find the rule he wanted because it was not in the book. He wanted a rule by which he could kill the water bill. Then he made some points of order on general principles, all of which the Chair properly overruled. Mr. Sheehan having been sat upon, W. B. Burns moved a call of the House. Mr. Sheehan positively objected, but the motion passed just the same and was carried. The doors were closed and Sergeant Manville sent his deputies throughout the Capitol for absentees. Presently he returned leading a squad of six delinquents, Connelly and Sullivan of New York , Mase | mons and Bowen. The two latter were of Dutchess, Pearsall of Chenango, Mc- photographed. Bride of New York and J. J. O'Connor of Kings. When these were purged of contempt, the Sergeant made another raid on the corridors and brought in Kimball of St. Lawrence. Before this was done Mr. Shechan made an unsuccessful attempt to amendment.

then the vote on the final passage of the bill was taken. Few speeches were made during the voting, but Mr. Blumeuthal of New York took occasion to say that he had never beard so much bluster over a bill so plain and fair as this one. vote was as follows, Democrats in italies: Ayes—Acker, Adams, Balentine, Bennett, Blumenthal, Bradford, Brady, Bridges, J. But Mr. Sheehan was not yet crushed. Before the Chair could announce the result, he rushed down the aisle, Blue book in hand, shouting, "A point of order!" He claimed that the Constitution required eighty-six votes to pass this bill. Skane-ateles lake, water and all, belonged to the State, was the property of the State and could not be granted away except by a two third vote of the Legislature.

The Chair (Husted)—"The gentleman's point of order is not well taken. The Chair holds this to be a three-fifths bill. If he is wrong the courts will settle the matter between the cities of Buffalo and Syracuse." The bill was then declared to be passed, and Mr. Sheeban and Mr. Andrus fell in their last ditch.
