

COAST GUARD CAPTAIN HALTS SHERIFF'S DUEL INQUIRY

MEN RELEASED IN CUSTODY OF THEIR SKIPPER

Commander Confers With Scriber and District Attorney Malpass.

PROTESTS ARREST Asserts Guardsmen on Lawful Business at Headson's Landing.

After the sensational pistol duel at Headson's Landing early yesterday morning the two coast guardsmen captured by deputy sheriffs today were released in custody of Capt. A. N. McNeil of the CG-144, Lake Ontario rum chaser.

The release forecasts final collapse of the case the sheriff's office expected to make against the men at first believed to be hi-jacks.

Under orders of Captain McNeil, the two coast guard men remained in the jurors sleeping quarters at the Court House today. They were free of the sheriff and not locked in. Both dispute the deputies' stories that 50 shots were fired and say there were only three—one by the sheriff's and two, aimed at the ground. The sheriff sticks to their original story. The four prisoners are expected to be free to leave Syracuse late today.

Captain McNeil rushed to Syracuse late yesterday when he learned his own detail in running down smuggled booze was in jail. He came determined to muzzle any investigation by Sheriff Scriber which might link the Coast Guard service with hi-jack operations.

William B. Trembley and William E. Warren, the captured coast guardsmen, were accompanied by three other men when they were the thrilling pistol battle with deputy sheriffs at Frank Moore's place, one mile east of Headson's Landing. One of the other three escaped and two are in jail. They are Henry Wilson and Glenn Palmer, alleged tipsters.

Sleep in Juror's Room. Trembley and Warren spent last night with their captain, the trio sleeping in the juror's room at the court house. They were not under guard but in the officer's custody.

In a two-hour conference with District Attorney Malpass last night the rum chaser captain protested the arrest of his men. They were on lawful business, working under his orders, he said.

Each faction in the gun play claims to have believed the other was the hi-jack band.

Captain McNeil went into a conference with the district attorney and sheriff again this morning with a view to effecting the unconditional release of the four men. Indications were that he would succeed.

Deputy Sheriff Hoffmire and Holmes went to Oswego yesterday to arrest Melvin Smith, chief organizer of the rum chaser, who is accused of assaulting Mrs. Moore when the coast guardsmen searched her place for smuggled contraband early Wednesday morning.

Warrant Not Served. The warrant was not served, Smith staying on the government boat in accordance with orders from his captain.

Hot denials that coast guardsmen were government booze chasers by day and hi-jacks by night were made by Captain McNeil today and he said one of the chief reasons of his trip to Syracuse was to forestall an investigation which might create that impression.

His men were chasing 50 cases of smuggled liquor when deputies opened fire on them, McNeil said.

DAY PICKED PRIZE AND DAY WON IT

Harold M. Day, secretary of the Builders' Exchange, was chairman of the committee that solicited prizes for the sporting events run off at the annual picnic at Three Rivers.

Harold M. Day was chairman of the committee that decided what prizes should be awarded for each event, assigning the best of all—an immense Thermos jug—to the 50-yard dash.

Harold M. Day won the 50-yard dash.

Harold M. Day got the jug.

Chuckles

'Ain't life grand' when you know

That the Want-Ad in your hand

Points the way you should go To the best job in the land?

READ AND USE HERALD WANT-ADS

SEEKS CITY'S BEAUTY TITLE

Miss Rose M. Wellin, one of the many entered in contest for Miss Syracuse.

Beauty Contest of Herald Is Entering Final Week

Interest Is Running High in Selection of Miss Syracuse of 1925.

The last week of The Herald Beauty Contest through which Miss Syracuse of 1925 will be chosen opens today with one of the largest groups of entries ever listed in the annual contest.

Interest is high in the selection of Miss Syracuse of 1925, and with so many beautiful girls listed as candidates, the outcome is one hard to prophesy.

The week still remaining in the contest is time enough for every pretty girl in greater Syracuse who has not already been listed as a candidate to enter the race for beauty honors.

An honor which the younger set of Syracuse values highly is that of being included in The Herald Beauty Garden, the 25 girls selected as the most attractive from the hundreds of photographs submitted in the contest.

Every girl listed among the 25 may hope that the title of Miss Syracuse will be hers.

The invitation to enter the contest is extended to all girls of greater Syracuse, which includes Onondaga Valley, Eastwood and Solvay. Candidates must be between 16 and 30 and unmarried. A photograph marked with name, address and age is submitted to the Beauty Contest Editor.

FOUR SYRACUSE TEACHERS WILL GO TO ALTAR

Freed from the classroom by the close of the school year, four local school teachers are taking up a new career of matrimony today and tomorrow.

This morning, Miss Dorothy Pearl Bolton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Penn Bolton, 138 East Corning Avenue, will be married to Wrederick Taylor Wall, of Birmingham, Mich., and Miss Esther Sarah Koon, of 615 South Beech Street, will be married to George Arthur Cornell of New York City.

Tonight, Miss Eleanor Hanley, of 1511 North Salina Street, will wed Peter John Burke, of 217 Lincoln Avenue, and tomorrow, Miss Doris Reba Port of 616 Euclid Avenue, will be married to Dr. Mortimer Cohan, of 123 Henry Street.

CLUB FORMED BY UKRAINIANS

Ukrainian men and women living in Syracuse met last night at Parish Hall, Tompkins Street, and South Wilber Avenue, to organize a club for the purpose of promoting Americanism among Ukrainians here.

Thomas Kennedy, city clerk, spoke on American ideals and outlined a plan for systematic study of our institutions designed to fully acquaint these people with our national belief.

READING FRIENDS AID ALABAMA LIBRARY

The Friends of Reading Society has made a gift of 200 books to the Public Library at Birmingham, Ala., which was practically destroyed by fire a month ago. The majority are reference books and include a volume of the proceedings of the Engineers which will be of special value. Birmingham is a great industrial city.

A copy of "David Harum," with an inscription by Dr. John H. Applebee, president of the Friends of Reading, will be sent as a special gift representing Central New York.

PARISH PASTOR ON WEDDING TRIP

Members of the Parish Methodist Church, sent a telegram of congratulations to their pastor, the Rev. R. A. Tennes, last night, having learned that a marriage license was issued to him, and to Miss Frances Fisk, a Boston school teacher at Jamaica Plain, Mass. They are also planning a reception, when the couple reach Parish after a three weeks' automobile trip.

7 HURT, DRIVER HELD, IS TOLL OF ACCIDENTS

Operator Runs Down Child in Lodi Street—Fails to Stop.

Seven persons were hurt, a driver is under arrest charged with reckless driving and several automobiles were badly damaged in accidents in Syracuse and vicinity in the last 24 hours. None of the victims are believed seriously injured.

A man describing himself as Vern Cox of South Crouse Avenue ran down Lucien Macchione, 8, of 200 Lodi Street near the child's home last night, according to witnesses, drove from the scene without waiting to ascertain whether the boy was injured. When he showed up at police headquarters later to report the mishap he was placed under arrest on the reckless driving charge. The victim is believed to have suffered a fractured ankle.

Cox was arraigned in Police Court on the reckless driving charge today pleaded not guilty and the case was adjourned to July 1 with bail fixed at $300.

Miss Helen Stack, 16, of 432 Wilkinson Street, was struck by a car driven by a Fred J. Burtis, 206 Webster Avenue, on the State highway near Warners last night. She was taken to Syracuse Memorial Hospital and found to be suffering lacerations about the head and face.

Harvey R. Lambert, 294 West Adams Street, reported to the police he ran down Carmina Gifford, 11, of 329 Oswego Street, at Gifford and Oswego Streets last night. According to his statement he took the girl to the office of a physician where examination revealed she was suffering only from cuts and bruises.

William Mawhinney, 130 West Adams Street, suffered contusions about the head when hurled from the machine in which he was riding with Samuel MacLachlin, 432 Wilkinson Street, in a collision with a car driven by Patrolman James Daley in West Belden Avenue last night.

An unidentified woman and child are believed to have been injured when a car operated by Isaac Dodge, of West Monroe, was struck by a trolley car at East Onondaga and South Warren Streets last night. The two victims, the police learned, were in the road when the automobile careened into them after the collision. Both were taken away in a taxicab before the police arrived.

Josephine Massimo, 9, of 407 East Division Street, was cut and bruised when struck by a car said to have been driven by Glen Martin, 331 Clairmonte Avenue, at East Division and Townsend Streets last night.

LICENSE PLATES MUST BE IN VIEW

Arrest of drivers whose cars bear license plates not in plain view is ordered in a ruling sent to inspectors under Albert A. Kocher, district director of the State Motor Vehicle Bureau.

New rules effective July 1 are less stringent as to placing of plates, Mr. Kocher said. They will permit licenses to be attached to the ground. Formerly the distance was not less than 18 inches and not more than 48 inches above the ground.

"Obstructed view of plates makes them worthless for the purpose they are assigned," said Mr. Kocher. "The protection of all motorists and pedestrians, we are going to enforce this new ruling to the letter, and we now have our full quota of 17 inspectors to do the job."

HUDSON DIVISION MAN MAY BE MANAGER

F. N. Melius, superintendent of the Hudson Division of the New York Central railroad, will be named July 1 as general manager of the railroad to succeed F. E. Williamson, who recently accepted the office of vice president of the Northern Pacific Railroad, according to reports circulated in railroad circles.

Confirmation of this report could not be made as D. W. Dinan, assistant general manager, Frank W. Everett, assistant to the general superintendent, and F. S. Risley, division superintendent, were absent from the city.

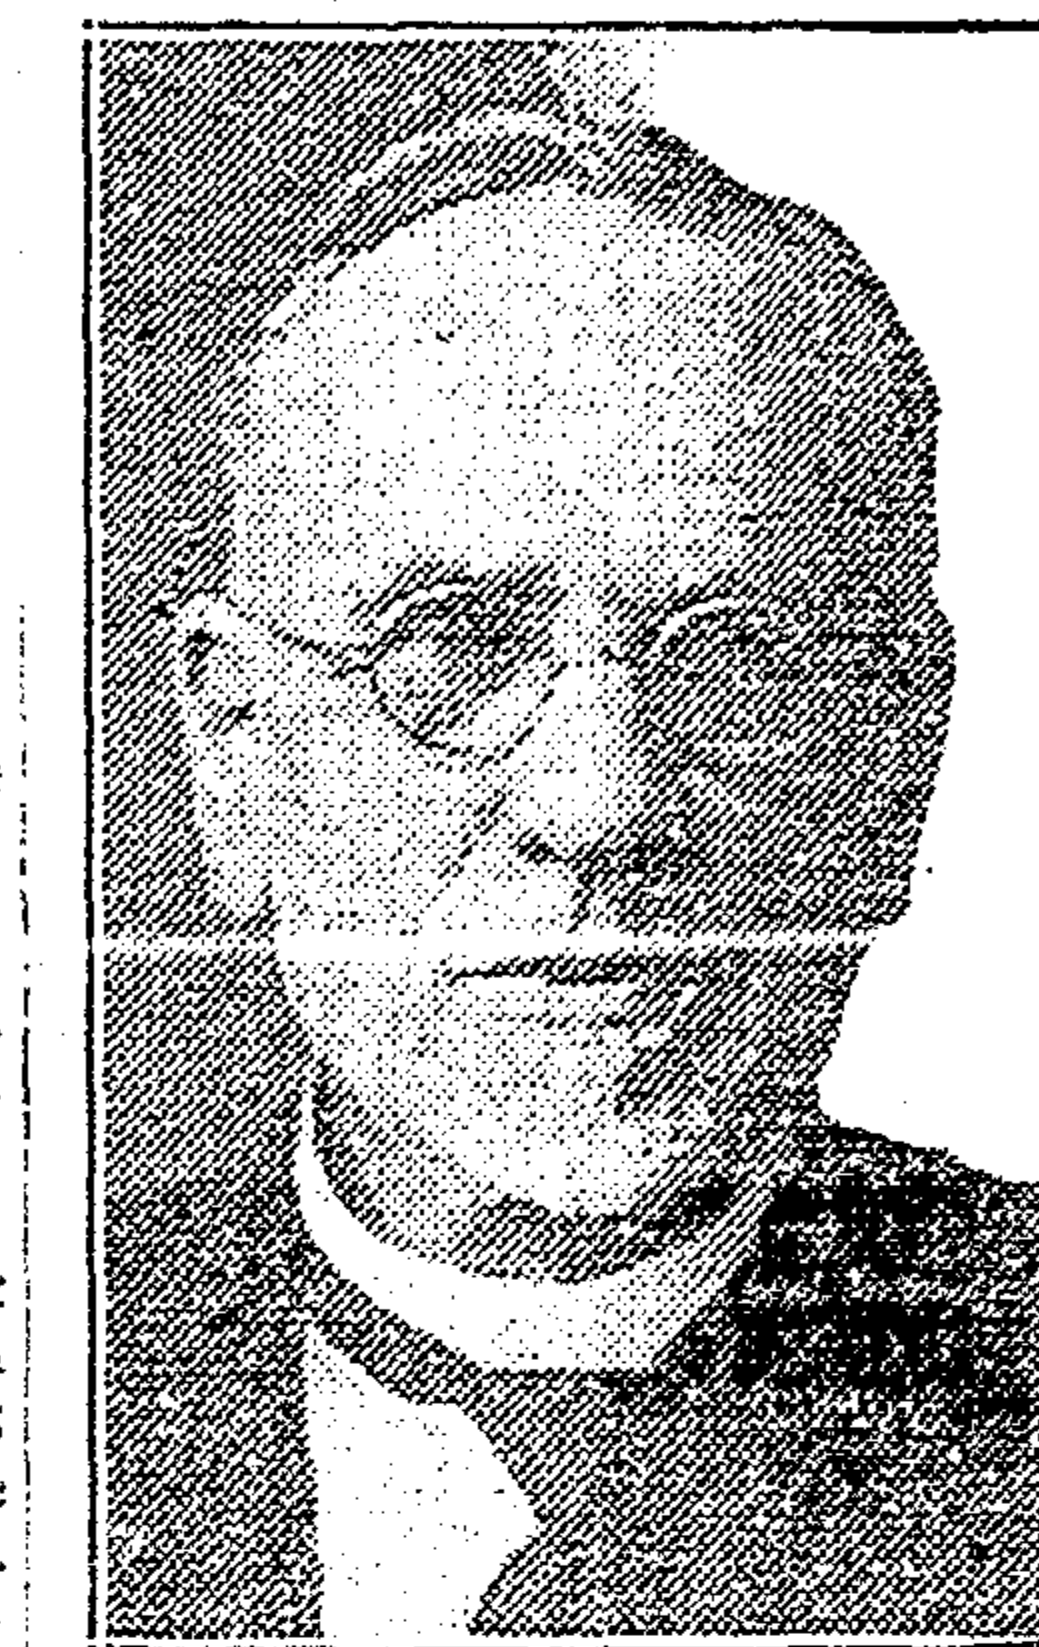

Crisp, wholesome peanuts Sealed air-tight at the factory. THE NICKEL LUNCH Planters PENNANT SALTED PEANUTS

Circus Has Gone, Elephants, Tigers and Everything, But 30,000 Were Made Happy

Nothing Left in Lemoyne Park to Show Great Troupe Made It Dwelling Place for a Night and a Day.

The circus has gone. Lions, tigers, elephants and strange animals from the tropical jungle, which yesterday caused the admiring wonder of countless wide-eyed youngsters, have vanished during the night.

MOURNED HERE

DR. O. F. CHADBOURNE.

DR. CHADBOURNE DIES AT HOME

Stroke Fatal to One of City's Leading Physicians.

Dr. Osborne F. Chadbourne, many years a leading practitioner in the West End, is dead at his home 1540 West Genesee Street, after disability of a few weeks, the first break in 42 years of activity as a physician.

He died at 9:40 o'clock last night after being comatose three days, the result of a stroke two weeks ago. Dr. Chadbourne was broken by the death of his only son, Ernest Chadbourne, killed in action at Grand Pre in 1918.

The family arrived in Syracuse in 1870. Dr. Chadbourne the first 25 years of his residence was physician to the Solvay Process Company, and afterward in general work. He was born Nov. 5, 1846, in Cornish, Me., the son of a farmer. He attended Bowdoin College and the University of Michigan Medical College, finishing in 1883.

His wife, Rosalie Armstrong, was a fellow student in medicine. They were married in 1884 and she completed her course in 1886. They practiced four years in Kansas City, Kan., and then returned to Ann Arbor, Mich. Dr. Chadbourne had been recalled there for teaching work. After a year they moved here.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Belle C. Truex and Miss Evangeline Chadbourne.

IRISH PUBLISHER SPEAKS TO ROTARY

Programs and progress of Ireland not the wildly revolutionary country, newspaper dispatches lead the world to believe, were told to members of the Rotary Club in the luncheon meeting at the Onondaga Hotel yesterday, by Patrick Montford of Dublin.

Mr. Montford is a publisher of several prominent Irish newspapers. He is guest of Joseph A. Griffin while in the city, both men being delegates to the recent convention of Rotary International at Cleveland.

FORT PLAIN MAN BEATEN, ROBBED; FOUR ARRESTED

John Van Dusen, 54, Held Up at Threat of Knife in Back.

Beaten and robbed while held powerless by the threat of a knife pressed against his back early this morning in East Washington Street, John Van Dusen, 54, of Fort Plain, caused the arrest today of four men he charged with holding him up.

One of them, George Darrow, 17, of 1125 East Washington Street, a negro, was accused earlier in the week in a similar case by James Keezan of Alexandria Bay.

Acting Detectives McDonald and Cass arrested with Darrow a negro giving the name of Charles Anthony, 22, of 1221 East Washington Street, and two other prisoners giving names of Roy Hennessy, 22, of 121 East Madison Street, and John Matt, 322 Lodi Street.

The police said they found a knife in the street near East Washington Street and University Avenue, where the victim said he was robbed. They also alleged that they found on Matt two rings identified by the Fort Plains man as his property. He told Detective Sergeant Bamrick that his four assailants took $2.50 from him, one of them knocking him down, while another held the knife pressed against his back.

The police said they found a knife in the street near East Washington Street and University Avenue, where the victim said he was robbed. They also alleged that they found on Matt two rings identified by the Fort Plains man as his property. He told Detective Sergeant Bamrick that his four assailants took $2.50 from him, one of them knocking him down, while another held the knife pressed against his back.

MEN'S CLUBS ON OUTING

The men's clubs of St. Albans and Trinity Episcopal Churches are having an outing and field day today at Bay Shore Inn, South Bay. Groups left Syracuse by automobile at noon. A silver loving cup will be awarded to the group amassing the largest number of points in field events.

800 SYRACUSANS WILL GO ON EXCURSION

Approximately 800 Syracuseans will take advantage of the week-end excursion to New York City which the Lackawanna Railroad will conduct today and Sunday. Capacity of the excursion train is limited to 500 passengers and as nearly one quarter of the reservations have already been taken, indications point that the allotted number of Syracuseans will make the trip. The train, which leaves Syracuse at 11 o'clock (standard time), Saturday night, will be made up entirely of steel coaches.

Cuticura: Talcum Unadulterated Exquisitely Scented

On Pages 126-127 of this week's Saturday Evening Post is a message of importance to you. SYRACUSE MOTOR CAR CO. 312-316 West Genesee Street.

A Good Place to Spend Sunday Beautiful CASCADE-ON-OWASCO Three Miles from Moravia on New Cement Road Our regular chicken and fish dinners served on Sunday from 12:30 to 2:30 P. M., and from 6 to 8 P. M. at $1.50 per plate. Resort Hotel at head of Owaseo Lake entirely remodeled and redecored. Large lake front—spacious porches—beautiful grounds GOOD FISHING, BOATING AND BATHING If possible make reservations in advance. Phone Moravia 193 or address CASCADE-ON-OWASCO, CASCADE, N. Y.

Free until June 30th One 50¢ tube of Waiter's ANTI-PY-O DENTAL CREAM with every 50¢ tube you buy. Why are we making this offer? Because we believe that once you use Waiter's Anti-py-o Dental Cream, you will decide that it thoroughly cleans your teeth, keeps your gums sound and healthy, prevents pyorrhea and is more pleasing to use. Instead of confusing you with technical talk about acid mouth, "film", etc., etc., we are willing to let you be the judge of whether or not Waiter's Dental Cream, does the things other dental creams claim to do. That's why we make this offer.—Get yours at your druggist today! Offer Expires June 30th. The Antidolor Mfg. Co., Springville, Erie County, N. Y.