Introduction

On the following pages are two pedigree charts which trace out several lines of descent from Michael McGrath of Moyaliff, Co. Tipperary. Several modern day descendants of all four of Michael's children have been identified and most have been contacted or have made contact on their own.

Name	Ancestor	Email
Susan Lindner McDonald	Alanson (Lanty) McGrath	smcdonald002@rochester.rr.com
Judith H. Halseth	Alanson (Lanty) McGrath	judith.halseth@wmich.edu
Anne Marie Smithling Bishop	Thomas McGrath	anneb5944@gmail.com
Kathleen Anne Burns	Thomas McGrath	No contact
Michael F. McGraw	Edmund McGrath	mfmcgraw@austin.rr.com
Mary Santello	Margaret McGrath	santellom@gmail.com
James David Long (deceased) 2 nd wife: Nancy Long	Margaret McGrath	nancylong33@gmail.com

Over the years a number of people have contacted me with stories about how one of their relatives or friends was related to John J. McGraw (Manager of the NY Giants 1902-1932), or that the relative had grown up and played baseball with young John J., in Truxton, NY. These stories had been handed down over the years in each person's family and they had probably been embellished with each retelling. After researching the details of these stories none of the claims ever held up. All of this took place prior to 2007, when we still believed that our gg-grandfather, Edmund McGraw, John J.'s grandfather, was an example of that rare phenomenon, the Irish only child, and all his descendants were known. Then I discovered Edmund's other siblings: Lanty, Thomas and Margaret. This dramatically opened up the number of persons who could be related to John J. McGraw.

My grandfather, Edward McGraw, was John J. McGraw's 1st cousin. That makes me a 1st cousin, twice removed from John J. McGraw. Everyone else in the table above, with the exception of Nancy Long, is a 2nd cousin, twice removed. If the cousin degree is N then there is a common ancestor N+1 generations back (not counting the present generation). The number of removals is the number of generations from the cousin to the individual of interest.
