Introduction

The picture below was sent to the author by Frank Calandra and he posed a question. Was the person in this picture the same person who opened the McKinley Supermarket in Mattydale, NY in 1947? After searching for a few days it was possible to answer Frank's question in the positive. The results of that search can be found in the Appendix of this paper: Clifford McKinley's Supermarket.

Clifford W. McKinley was in the grocery business prior to his move to Mattydale in 1947 when he built the McKinley Supermarket on the northeast corner of Brewerton Road and E. Molloy Road. The McKinley grocery store shown above was located at 901 Oak Street in Syracuse, NY.

After discovering several generations of Clifford McKinley's ancestors and finding an interesting obituary for his great grandfather, Duncan McKinley, it was decided to explore the entire McKinley in more detail. The results of that research are contained in this paper.

Genealogy

Genealogy is in some ways much like putting together a jigsaw puzzle except in the genealogy case first one has to find the pieces. In the beginning it isn't known how many pieces belong to any genealogy puzzle and of course there will always be missing pieces. Sometimes there are pieces that don't quite fit and in other cases there might be multiple pieces for the same spot in the puzzle. Perhaps the most perplexing difference with the genealogy puzzle is the lack of a box with a picture of what the completed puzzle looks like. Family trees, like the one on the previous page, and others found throughout this paper, are an attempt to overcome this problem. These trees provide a summary of a large amount of information all on one page that allows an analysis of the consistency of the genealogy information. It also makes it easier to determine what information might be missing for certain individuals.

The surname McKinley (and MacKinlay) has deep ancestral roots in Scotland, originating from the Gaelic Mac Fhionnlaigh, meaning "son of Finlay". However, many families with this name are also of Scotch-Irish descent due to historical migrations. During the Ulster Settlement of the 17th century, many Scottish MacKinlays migrated to Northern Ireland (especially County Antrim and County Donegal) during the Plantation of Ulster.

Duncan McKinley's Obituary

"On the 4th of May last, at his residence in the town of Clay, DUNCAN McKINLEY, at the advanced age of 82.

"Mr. McKinley was born in Ireland, of Scottish parentage, and while a youth, his parents emigrated to the State of Pennsylvania. In early manhood he left that State, and settled in the county of Albany. On the breaking out of the War of 1812, Mr. McKinley enlisted in the 'Albany Volunteers,' under the command of Captain (since Colonel) Jesse Wood where he remained in the service of his country until the close of the campaign of that year, when he returned to his farm. But few members of that gallant company now survive. At the advanced age of 76, Mr. McKinley removed to Onondaga county, and settled in the town of Clay, where he resided until his death.

"His best eulogium is, that he never had a lawsuit, or a difficulty with his neighbor."

July 18, 1849, Wednesday, Onondaga Standard, Syracuse, NY

Note: Based on the ages given in his obituary Duncan McKinley came to Onondaga County in 1843. However, on April 29, 1833 Duncan McKinley (of the Town of Clay) purchased 152 acres of land on Lot No. 5 in the Town of Clay. In addition, at the time of the 1830 Federal Census Duncan McKinley was residing in the Town of Clay, Onondaga Co., NY

The above tables compare the actual early census records with how they should look based on the known family members and their birth years inferred from the 1850 and later census records. Nancy McKinley Campbell is the person examined and she consistently gave her age as consistent with a birth year of 1800. Census ages are notoriously unreliable with individuals enhancing or reducing their ages for various reasons. The actual 1800 census record is the most accurate in Nancy's case. In 1800 there was no daughter under 10 and in the 1810 record there was one daughter under the age of 10. Nancy was most likely born after the June 1st census in 1800.

On the male side of the family there seems to have been 3 sons born in the 1790s and one of them had died by 1810. Based on the 1850 and later census records there were three sons born in 1800-1810 but they weren't picked up in the actual 1810 census but the 1820 census corrects for this. In the 1820 census 2 extra person appeared in the 16-26 category. These are possibly farm workers that lived with the family one of them might have been a second son who died young.

The census day for all the census data in this table was June 1st.

Note 1: The Hugh McKinley family had only been in the Town of Cicero for 5 yrs, but their son Gilbert had been born in Onondaga County in 1834. Since Hugh had purchased land in the adjoining town of Clay in 1835 the family was most likely living in Clay until they moved to the Town of Cicero in 1850.

Note 2: Pages 1 -16 of the Town of Cicero 1860 census are missing from Ancestry.com and from FamilySearch.org

Note 3: The Town of Cicero and the Town of Clay records for the NYS 1865 census are missing from Ancestry.com and FamilySearch.org. Jesse McKinley was residing in the Town of Salina in 1865. The 1865 NYS census records for the towns of Cicero and Clay are also not to be found at the Onondaga County Courthouse, Syracuse, NY

Note 4: The Town of Salina records for the NYS 1855 census are missing from Ancestry.com and probably also from FamilySearch.org. This census record was found at the Onondaga County Court House, but Jesse Quick was not found in the Town of Salina.

NATURAL GAS AND OIL

Filing of Leases For the Use of Big Tracts of Land in Two Counties

“Eighty-three leases of lands in the towns of Clay, Cicero and Manlius for natural gas and oil purposes have been filed in the County Clerk’s office. The leases are executed to Ryan & Company, a firm composed of Thomas Ryan and William R. Kirk of this city and Frank Westcott of Rochester. The firm represents ex-Senator Frank Hiscock and the seven other Syracusans in whom a natural gas franchise was granted by the Common Council.

“It is said that 100 leases of lands in Oswego county were filed in the Oswego County clerk’s office yesterday, the company having secured control of about 20,000 acres of land in Onondaga and Oswego counties. The leases, which run for ten years, give the leasees the exclusive right to drill on the leased lands for gas or oil. When gas in paying quantities is found the owner of the land is to receive $100 a year for each well producing 100,000 cubic or more a day, and if oil is found he is to receive one-eighth of the production. Drilling will be actively under way in a couple of weeks, it is said.

“In the town of Clay Jacob A. and Melvin Suits have leased 36 acres, Frances D. Patchen 12 acres, Mary Jane Lynn 80 acres, Josephine Hall 340 acres, Rebecca and John G. A Well-to-do Farmer Commits Suicide “BREWERTON, N. Y., August 21. — The people of Brewerton were shocked to learn this morning that Peter Boughton has committed suicide. Mr. Boughton resided about three miles west of this village, and was pleasantly situated. No cause can be assigned for the rash act. His family say that he was not embarrassed any way and that at no time in his life were his circumstances any better.

“Mr. Boughton had not been in very good health this summer, but at no times deemed it necessary to call a physician. Yesterday (Sunday) about one o’clock he was seen cross the road to the old house, directly in front of the new house, the buildings being separated by the width of the road, with a small rope in his hand. In half an hour after this, the son came from his place and inquired for his father as he wished to get the buggy. The family informed him that he was in the old house. The son says, ‘I went into the old house, but not seeing my father I called to him. Not receiving any answer, seeing the door open, I went up stairs and saw him partly lying on the floor with his head held up by a rope around his neck, attached to a rafter and he was dead.’ Mr Boughton was sixty-three years of age. MARRIAGES

December 30, 1901, Monday, syracuse Journal, Syracuse, NY

One Day's Business in Thomson's Court

“Adelbert Quick of 1212 Carbon street was charged in Police court this morning by his wife, Mary Quick, with being a disorderly person in failing to support her and their children. Quick had a hard luck story to tell about his going to the North woods last summer to work and on returning found that his wife had moved out of the house taking all the household furniture. He then went to work in Cicero. He is held to give a bond for their support for a year.”

March 1, 1902, Saturday, The Evening Telegram, Syracuse, NY

The “Disorderlies.”

“The non-support cases released by Judge Ross yesterday, on their promise to support their families, were John Butler, Adelbert Quick, Henry Slank, Frank Wilson, Charles Maisch, William Lemke and Eugene Keller. Edward Sullivan, Martin Doehner and Fred Graff were sent back. Henry Littleboy, Charles E. Young and Charles Hanlon will have their cases further investigated.”

April 1, 1902, Tuesday, The Syracuse Journal, Syracuse, NY

MANY ASK TO BE SET FREE

Men Who Have Failed to Support Their Families

THIRTEEN BEFORE JUDGE ROSS

“Petitions of several who desire release from Penitentiary are granted upon payment of certain sums and promises to do better — Two warned to keep away from wives, who declare they are able to care for themselves.

“Men who have failed to support their families and have allowed that duty to fall upon their wives and as a consequence were sent to the Penitentiary as disorderly persons, were brought before Judge Ross yesterday afternoon on applications for release. There were thirteen of them, and some felt that it was an unlucky number.

“Adelbert Quick promised to pay the city $2 a week for the support of his child and to keep away from his wife, who felt able to care for herself. On this agreement he was discharged.”

Note: Why would Floyd be out in Wayne County? In 1902 Floyd's mother had him committed to the Rochester Industrial School for being intoxicated. Perhaps when he was finally released he hung around the Rochester area. Wayne County borders Monroe County (Rochester) on the east. In 1905 Floyd was recorded as living in both Wolcott and Syracuse — he was one of those rare census double hitters. It will be seen later that the Quicks have Campbell cousins living in Wolcott.

Note 1: In 1902 Floyd's mother had him committed (at age 17) to the Rochester State Industrial School for being intoxicated. She also had her husband Adelbert arrested for disorderly behavior — he wasn't supporting his family. After this, Adelbert disappeared from the records.

Note 2: On September 1, 1917 Minnie Quick left the family home at 631 Gifford Street in Syracuse with her four-year-old son, Kenneth and disappeared. She left behind her husband

Floyd and her six-year-old daughter Elizabeth. By 1920 both children were living with the Ira Campbell family in Wolcott, Wayne County, NY and the children were described a “cousins.” Floyd’s grandmother was Permelia Campbell.

Note 3: In 1926 Minnie H. (Mabel) married Walter Gilmartin who was more than 10 years her junior. They had two children together and Elizabeth and Kenneth, the children from her first marriage, came to live with the Gilmartin family in Quincy, MA.

Texas Pony Drags Members of Ambulance Co. Into Court

Shattered Friendship in Evidence When John Webb, Unit’s Cook, Sues Floyd Quick, Pal.

“Battery A’s goat was in the limelight Wednesday night, but it was crowded out of the picture this morning in Municipal Court by the Texas pony which caused ruction among members of the Fourth Ambulance Company a lasting bitterness between cook ‘Johnny’ Webb and Floyd H. Quick, driver of an escort wagon, and which was finally given as a New Year’s present to two children living in McAllen.

“Shattered friendships were in evidence during the progress of the trial before Judge P. J. Ryan to-day, and the Webb faction had the greater numerical representation in court. So enthusiastic were some of them that they testified they would not believe Mr. Quick under oath, thereby immediately precipitating themselves into word skirmishes with Attorney L. Earl Higbee, the defender of Mr. Quick’s cause.

Refuses Quick’s Offer.

“The Fourth Ambulance Company has discussed the famous pony case both on the border and since its return home. Mr. Webb claims he purchased a Texas pony and sold it to Mr. Webb (should be Mr. Quick), who was his ‘pal’ and tent mate for $55, later lending him $65, making a total due of $120. In reply, Mr. Quick claims he sold the pony, which was a camp pet, back to Mr. Webb in addition to a $40 saddle, making a $95 offset on the bill. Mr. Quick expressed his willingness to pay the remaining $25, but his offer was not accepted.

“Both Mr. Webb and Mr. Quick often took meals at the Ragsdale Restaurant at McAllen. The pony was turned over to the Ragsdales, and their children became deeply attached to the pretty animal, riding it to school every day. When the holiday season came, one of the two friends suggested the pony would be a fine New Year’s present for the children’s “Ultimately the Ragsdale children became owners of the pony, but there is a dispute concerning whether Mr.

Webb or Mr. Quick was the donor of the gift. After the Fourth Ambulance Company came back from the border, the two former friends, who had quarreled over the financial end of the transaction, became engaged in the suit tried this morning.

Attacks Quick's Reputation

"Evidently Mr. Quick does not hold a high place in the good graces of several members of the company. Walter Schindler, John Halloran and Raymond G. Anson damaged his character by saying his reputation for truth and veracity was bad and that they would not believe him under oath, when they were questioned by Attorney Daniel F. Scully.

"These statements left the way open for Mr. Higbee, who forced an admission from Mr. Schindler, the cook, and a student in the College of Medicine, that he had threatened to 'trim' Mr. Quick because of an argument over the pony, and Mr. Webb's money. Then Mr. Halloran had to defend himself when Mr. Higbee tried to make him appear as a meddler, troublemaker and 'freshie'.

"Mr. Anson was then compelled to admit that he was willing to lose time from his Sement Solvay position in order to get even with Mr. Quick, who he claimed owed him money. Judge Ryan then granted an adjournment until Saturday to permit Mr. Quick to produce character witnesses to take the sting from the testimony of the men who seemed to be on bad terms with him."

Granting of Judgment Ends Famous Texas Pony Case

"The famous Texas pony case which caused a fracas in the ranks of the Fourth Ambulance Corps while it was on the border last winter has been decided by Judge P. J. Ryan, who filed his decision to-day granting a judgment of $148.66 to John Webb in his action against Floyd H. Quick.

"An execution has been issued and returned unsatisfied. Mr. Webb sued for $120 and his adversary admitted to owing $25. To offset the balance of the sum Mr. Quick claimed he had sold to Mr. Webb for $95, a horse he had purchased from him a short time before. A saddle was included in the second sale, according to Mr. Quick's claims.

"The Texas pony was given to the children of a man named Ragsdale who kept a restaurant at McAllen. There was a dispute concerning whether plaintiff or defendant gave the pony to the children for a holiday presents. Wright, Scully & O'Brien represented Mr. Webb in the suit."

Floyd Quick Complains to the Police When He Finds Wife Missing — Acts as Own Sleuth.

"At 634 Gifford st. today there's a brokenhearted father trying to dry the free-flowing tears of his six-year-old daughter and reassure her that 'mother and baby brother' will soon return to the home from which they stole away in the silent hours of the night.

"All of which is explained by the call made by Floyd Quick of that address upon the police authorities this morning and the insertion in the advertising columns of The Journal today of a notice warning the public against permitting Mrs. Minnie Quick, who until last night resided at No. 634, to incur bills in her husband's name.

"Some time after 11:30 o'clock last night, the hour Mr. Quick left home for the Sement-Solvay Company, where he is employed on the night shift. Mrs. Quick disappeared from the Gifford st. residence, taking with her the couple's four-year-old son, Kenneth, whom she stealthily removed, Mr. Quick says, from the bed in which he was sleeping with the husband's sister and the six-year-old daughter, Elizabeth.

"Mr. Quick knew nothing of the action of his wife until he returned home this morning, although of late he states his wife had indicated that she was becoming weary of the home ties. According to the husband, he was greeted with this question from his wife recently: 'What are you going to do with Elizabeth? You know I'm not going to stay here many more years.'

"That he knows of no reason why his wife should leave him, is his statement. Until recently, a young man resided with Mr. and Mrs. Quick, but left to accept a position in another city. His trunk was left at the Quick home. Yesterday, Mr. Quick says his wife informed him that the former boarder had arrived at his home in Montana and she had dispatched the truck there. Doing a bit of quiet sleuthing, Mr. Quick claims he found the truck at a local depot, but the address read to a New York State city.

"Mrs. Quick had a new trunk for herself delivered at his home on Friday, the husband says, but that trunk is still there. Whether his wife and son are still in the city, awaiting an opportunity to get it. Mr. Quick does not profess to know. He is, however, particularly anxious for a reunion in view of the children. Unless the mother returns, he will be forced to place the little girl in the Onondaga County Orphans Home.

"'Her appeals for her mother and her four-year-old brother Kenneth are pitiful.' Mr. Quick said to The Journal this morning. 'I am sure that if Mrs. Quick only realized how much Elizabeth needs her care, she would return home. Our married life in the past has been happy and unruffled.'

"Mr. Quick is a former member of the Fourth New York Ambulance Company and was wit that company during the eight months it was on the Mexican border. An excellent horseman, he served as driver or, an escort wagon. He was discharged under the ruling of the War Department providing for the dropping of men with dependents.

"Since his return home he has been involved in litigation in Municipal Court over a horse purchased while in Texas. John Webb, erstwhile bosom friend of Mr. Quick while at McAllen and former cook of the Ambulance Company, was the plaintiff. The case attracted considerable attention."

H. W. BAKER BOASTS OF HEALTH AND DIES

Is Found Dead After Telling How Good He Felt.

AN OLD TIME POLITICIAN

Well Known Cicero Man Took an Active Part in the Belden Fights – Passes Away in Room at the Manhattan Hotel.

“Hiram W. Baker, one of the well-known old-time politicians of this vicinity, was found dead at 8 o’clock this morning in his room at the Manhattan hotel. He had been stopping at the hotel for about three weeks. Although he had been in ill-health for over a year, death was due to heart disease and was entirely unexpected. Recently Mr. Baker had been a Supreme court attendant. His ill health had made it impossible for him to work steadily. It had been his habit to work for a short time and then go to his home on the Taft Settlement road late in the week and rest over Sunday. Last week he did not feel able to return home and remained over Sunday at the hotel. Last evening while in the barber shop at the hotel, he told his friends that he had never felt better but that he thought that he would go to bed early. He then went into the lobby of the hotel and conversed with F. H. Vale and E. L. Wheeler, two old friends with whom he had visited much of late.

Found Dead in Bed

“This morning Mr. Vale and Mr. Wheeler stopped at his door on their way to breakfast. They knocked but no answering sound came from within. They notified hotel employes, who forced the door and found Baker dead in bed. The coroner was called and he said that death was due to a sudden failure of the heart. Mr. Baker was born in Albany September 1st, 1838. When 9 years old he moved to Cicero. After attending the village school for a short time he engaged in farming with his father. He was master of the Cicero grange from the time of its installation and was actively interested in farming until twenty-five years ago, when he was appointed Court Crier under Judge Reigel. In Syracuse Mr. Baker was an active supporter of James J. Belden in his fight for the control of the Republican organization. After serving as court crier for a number of years he was made a messenger in the Capitol at Albany. Proof of his popularity was manifested last Christmas when he received more than 100 postcards from former friends and opponents in political circles.

A Prominent Mason.

“Mr. Baker was always prominent in Masonic orders and was a past master of the Centerville lodge. He served for a number of years in Cicero as justice of the peace and as overseer of the poor. Before election reporting had reached its present proficiency he brought the returns from Cicero to Syracuse. It was his boast that for thirteen consecutive years he was the first to arrive in Syracuse with news of the election in Cicero. Besides his wife, Mr. Baker’s only survivors are two sons, Burt and George Baker, both of Cicero. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.”

February 13, 1912, Tuesday, Syracuse Herald, Syracuse, NY

Mrs. Susan McKinley Baker

“Mrs. Susan McKinley Baker, 83, widow of Hiram W. Baker, who died yesterday at her home on the Messina Springs road, will be buried in North Syracuse. Funeral services will be conducted at the home tomorrow at 2:30 o’clock by the Rev. Frederick W. Betts, pastor of First Universalist Church. Mrs. Baker was a lifelong resident of the town of Cicero. She was a member of Centerville Lodge, O.E.S. Surviving are a son, George T. S. Baker, and two nieces, Mrs. George W. Connor and Miss Mariella Frary.

d. Mar 1892, N. Syracuse, NY

In the case of Cora McKinley above it was one mystery after another as the trail of Theodore Baldwin and his many wives evolved. Initially it was thought that Theodore was the Baldwin that Cora had married. Cora first showed up as a five-year-old child in the Thomas and Prudence McKinley family in the 1870 census for the Town of Clay. Even though Thomas and Prudence seemed too old to still be having children Cora appeared along with their other children in that census. In a later census it was seen that their son Charles was a widower and it seemed likely that Cora was his daughter. However, no evidence of a marriage has been found and his wife's name is not known. Charles must have married, had a child and his wife died, or they divorced — all between the 1865 and 1870 census. By the 1880 census Cora was 15 and was now being described as Thomas and Prudence's "niece." A newspaper search turned up evidence of Cora A. Baldwin divorcing a Theodore C. Baldwin in Cortland County. A census search turned up a Cora Baldwin married to a Theodore Baldwin in 1880 in Homer, NY. The couple had a 1-year-old son named Frank. It would turn out that this was the only record where this Frank would appear — it was assumed that he had died in infancy. This might have been a cause of the later divorce.

In the Homer census Cora's age was given as 19, while in the Centerville census of the same year Cora McKinley's age was 14. Now double census appearances are rare but they do occur. This age discrepancy is problematic but individuals have been known to be less than truthful when reporting their ages to the census takers. In 1892 Cora appeared with her father Charles and grandmother Prudence and her last name was then Baldwin but there was no 13-year-old son named Frank. In 1887 Cora and Theodore divorced. In 1892 Cora McKinley Baldwin died although no obituary has been found and her place of burial is not known.

It took a few rationalizations to make Cora McKinley into Mrs. Theodore C. Baldwin. There was the double census appearance in 1880 and her young age of 14 at that time and the probable death of her and Theodore's son Frank, born in 1879, since he couldn't be found after that first census. However, when Cora A. Maycumber came along, via Find A Grave, she fit the bill as Mrs. Theodore C. Baldwin without any rationalizations required.

That part of the puzzle had been solved but the Cora McKinley Baldwin puzzle remained. The name of her mother was already unknown and now the name of her husband was also unknown. Sometime between 1880 and 1892 Cora married a man named Baldwin; where he came from and what happened to him is not known. Had he died or did the couple separate or divorce? Despite an extensive search the answer to these questions is unknown at the present time.

Baldwin Search

The identity of Cora McKinley's mother is unknown. Her father, Charles McKinley was married and became widowed between the census years. Cora suffered a similar fate; she was single in 1880 and was with her family again in 1892 but with the new surname Baldwin. No record of a marriage could be found. For a while Cora McKinley was confused with another Cora who had married and divorced a Theodore C. Baldwin. A search was conducted for male Baldwins who were about Cora's age or a little older and who had died before 1892. Three such Baldwins were found: Clement Holder Baldwin (1859-1880); Henry R. Baldwin (1865-1882) and George Baldwin (1854-1889). The first two Baldwins were single at the time of their deaths and George Baldwin left a wife and a child while Cora McKinley Baldwin had no child.

Note: C. Burke McKinley is described above as “retired in 1966 as owner of McKinley’s Supermarket in Mattydale after 20 years.” Could he be the Clifford McKinley who started McKinley’s in 1946 at the age of 37 and his father, named Clifford W. McKinley and then aged 65, just went along to help out.

McKinley's Grocery Store at 901 Oak St., Syracuse, NY

The 901 Oak Street corner in 2013.

The area in front of the store has been raised so that the steps were no longer needed to enter the store. In the modern photo an entrance door can be seen on the far right. If the older picture is enlarged it can be seen that there is an entrance on the far right of that building also. It appears that the older picture and the 901 Oak Street building are one and the same.

The Irving McKinley Story (A3.2.1)

The story of Irving's parents is that 19-year-old Mary L. Mede married a man named Alexander McKinley between 1856 - 1859. He was the son of James and Mary McKinley and the McKinley family was a neighbor of the Mede family in Cicero, NY. While giving birth to her first child, Irving, or shortly thereafter, Mary died in February 1860. Her husband remarried to a widow named Elizabeth with one child and they had two more children, Lillian and John. Irving was raised by Mary's parents, John and Louisa Mede.

Lottie's Story

John Quick and Lottie Harrington were married on June 30, 1890 and over the next six years they had three children: Gertrude (1892), Jesse (1893) and Iva (1896). According to the divorce reporting, the couple had separated in July 1897. Lottie started having an affair with a man named Charley Potter. They would meet at Nora Sabine's roadhouse on the March Road. On January 29, 1901 Lottie gave birth to a baby boy who she named Harold. Her husband John filed for a divorce and the couple were officially divorced in April 1901.

At the time of the 1900 census all members of the John Quick family, including the children, were living apart. Each of the children was living with a different relative or family friend. The impact of Lottie's affair had been affecting the family members for some time.

John and Lottie went their separate ways and even though John got custody of their three children they were split up and raised by relatives or friends. The children were all out on their own after a few more years. Gertrude and Iva grew up and were married. Jesse was in the 1900 census and was mentioned in the divorce settlement and then disappeared from the records. His fate is unknown.

John was married a second time in 1902 to Bertha H. Smith and they went on to have four children. The children from John's first marriage never came to live with him.

After her 1901 divorce Lottie turned up in Auburn, NY by 1905. She and her son Harold were going by the name Potter. They were living in Auburn with a 30-year-old painter named Fred Davenport. In the 1910 census the three were still living together but Lottie and Harold were going by the name Davenport. According to the 1910 census Fred and Lottie had been married since 1902. In the 1930 census Fred Davenport stated that he had first been married at the age of 21 (1889). However no other evidence for such a marriage could be found. Most likely his first marriage was to Lottie in 1902.

The 1905 census didn't indicate marital status or relationships among the individuals living together. In that census Lottie and Harold were going by the name Potter which was the name of Harold's father. Harold was the result of the affair that had caused Lottie's divorce from John Quick. From just reading the 1905 census Lottie and Harold appeared to be boarding but later evidence showed that Fred and Lottie were already married at that point.

At the time of the 1910 census the Davenports were residing in Moravia which is at the south end of Owasco Lake — Auburn is at the northern end of the lake. Moravia was Davenport's home town. The couple never had any children and lived quietly in Moravia. In 1927 Harold married Julia W. Ward and the couple continued to reside in Moravia. For some unknown reason Harold was going by the last name of Hart — not Davenport — by the time of the 1930 census. He continued to use the name Hart for the rest of his life.

After Lottie's death in 1933 Fred remarried twice more. Secondly he married Nellie McKinley who had also been married before. Nellie died shortly thereafter in 1938. Fred's 3rd wife was Grace E. Secaur Perry. This was her 2nd marriage and she outlived Fred. None of Fred Davenport's three marriages produced any children.

The man Lottie was having an affair with, and the presumed father of her son Harold, was Charles Porter. Could the census taker have gotten it wrong and recorded Potter instead of Porter? If so, then this now raises the question of how Harold came up with the surname Hart.

"Much has been told of 'The Isle of Capri' in a song but it is doubtful if many of the singers were familiar with the location of the beautiful isle. It was for Joanne, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hart of West Cayuga Street, Moravia, to locate the subject of the popular song and she made the discovery not far from Moravia. While motoring with her parents and friends near Union Springs she noted the island in Cayuga Lake and without solicitation pointed toward the little isle and exclaimed, 'The Isle of Capri.' The island noted by the child is Frontenac, the only one to be found in the charming lakes of the Finger Lakes region and that also has been immortalized, as well as Capri off the coast of Italy, in song and story."

FIRE LAST EVENING

One Dwelling House Destroyed and Another Slightly Damaged

“About nine o’clock last evening a lamp exploded in a two-story dwelling house on Nelson street, owned by Dr. Whedon and occupied by David Harrington. At the time of the accident no one was present, Mr. Harrington being at Brewerton and his wife in the city. Word was telephoned to Chemical No. 1’s house and chemical Nos. 1 and 2, steamer No. 3, and the hooks responded. The flames spread so rapidly that the building was entirely destroyed, and but little of the contents were saved. The loss on building will probably reach $400. The flames also communicated to the wooden dwelling owned and occupied by David Shehan. The house was saved by the efforts of the firemen, and the damage on the building will not exceed $25, and about the same on furniture. Mr. Shehan was fully insured.”

An Election Bet

“Last night in accordance with the terms of an election wager Andrew Drumma headed by the Geddes drum corps and the First district Cleveland and Hendricks club wheeled David Harrington through the streets of the village of Geddes, followed by one-half the population, making the air ring with the music of tin horns. After parading the principal streets the club proceeded to the house of “Sandy” Ryan of the Second district club, where refreshments were served.” November 23, 1884, Sunday morning, The Syracuse Standard, Syracuse, NY

A Fire in Geddes

“At 10 o’clock last night Nicholas Andrus discovered flames in the dwelling of his neighbor, David Harrington, No. 16 South Filbert street, in Geddes. The members of the Harrington family had retired for the night. Mr. Andrus aroused them, they barely made their escape with a few articles of household furniture when the dwelling, a one and a half-story building, was completely the prey of the flames. Royal E. Fox’s chemical engine did all the service that could possibly be rendered, but the building was destroyed. It was owned by Nicholas Hempler, who had insurance of $500. The furniture was insured for $300. It is thought that the fire was due to some defect in a stove.”

There was no chance of saving the house. They worked nobly and saved quite a lot of the furniture. Some of the neighbors not being at home and others lived so far away that they could not save as much as could have been, had there been more help. IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. John Harrington

“Mary Maxson, beloved wife of John Harrington, was born in the town of Nelson, Feb. 9, 1881, the second child of Chester and Viola Maxson. She was left motherless at three years for a time, but her father married again, since then she has been blessed with a good mother. She always lived in this vicinity, well known and dearly loved. Always frail, for the past year her health failed so as to alarm her friends. In April her husband took her to St. Joseph's Hospital, Syracuse, for an operation, and just four weeks from the day she left she was buried in the cemetery at Sheds. A strange coincidence was she was born on the 9th of the month, married on the same and died on the second anniversary of her marriage. Words are not needed to express how she was loved, the place she held and the good qualities that sustained her always. It would be hard to express the sweet loveliness and profusion of the flowers and the very largely attended funeral that was held at Sheds May 12th, her old schoolmates bearing her precious body to its resting place.

Once more our hearts do beat in unison,

 This time death claimed a precious wife,

A husband dear is sad and lonely

 Just in the morning of their life

Yes, just two years a bride you led her

 To the cottage on the hill:

There you crowned her wife and homequeen

 And well her vow did she fulfill.

Ah! Dear father, bowed and broken,

 Loving mother, sore distressed:

Words of mine are but poor comfort,

 May all your aching hearts find rest.

You, dear sister, you will so miss her;
 Since you both became a wife
 You have met in sweet communion,
 Planning for your future life.

And the brothers, how they loved her,
 Each time they met her placid face
 So womanly and sweetly noble,
 Though fair of form and full of grace.

And dear old grandmamma, so lonely,
 Eventually the first may be you
 To meet and live with your dear namesake,
 When you shall bid this life adieu.

Yes, she was a sweet homekeeper,
 Always patient, loving, kind:
 So neat and skillfully she managed,
 Modest and naturally refined.

Ah, dear husband, you can cherish
 Those three last words that she did say;
 She sweetly breathed: "Wait a minute,"
 Then she gently passed away.

Remember, dear ones, she is happy;
 Her life is radiant, sublime;
 When next you meet there will be no parting.
 As God calls home in his own time.

Which Cora Married Theodore Baldwin?

Father: Daniel S. Maycumber Mother: Emily R. Aldrich		Father: Charles McKinley Mother: Unknown
Cora A. Maycumber 1860 - 1942		Cora McKinley 1865 - 1892
1865 – Cora A., 5, grandchild, Preble
1870 – Cory, 9, Preble		1870 – Cora, 5, Clay
1875 – Cora M., 14, Preble		1875 – Cora, 10, Dau, Clay
1880 – Cora Maycumber missing	1880 – Preble Theodore Baldwin, 22 Cora Baldwin, 19 Frank Baldwin, 1	1880 – Cora E., 15, Niece, Centerville
1881 – Cora Baldwin listed in notification of the probate of the Will of George McCumber
	1887 – Cora A. Baldwin divorced Theodore Baldwin
1889 – Cora married Howard Johnson
1892 – Cora A. Johnson, 32, Cortlandville		1892 – Cora Baldwin , 29 with father and grandmother. Clay
		1892 – Mrs. Cora McKinley Baldwin died
1900 – Son Frank Maycumber living with his mother Cora and her husband Howard Johnson, Cortland WD06
1910 – Cora Johnson, 50. this was Cora's 2 nd marriage. Cortland WD06

Daniel S Maycumber's FIRST wife was Emily Rexiville Aldrich (1837-1864)

Daniel and Emily had two children: Frank Bruce (1854-1926) and Cora Adoresta (1860-1942)

Both are buried in same cemetery (Elmwood Cemetery, Preble, NY).

Before it was determined that Cora A. Maycumber was the lady who married Theodore C. Baldwin it was decided to continue to follow Baldwin and his multiple marriages. After Cora and he divorced Theodore married secondly Minnie Hotaling and they had a son named Theodore L. Baldwin in 1892. They only had this one child and in 1900 Minnie died.

Sometime later Theodore married a 3rd time to another Minnie — Minnie Wainman this time. This was Minnie's 2nd marriage and she had two sons from her first marriage; Howard (b. 1893) and Leslie (b. 1895). This 3rd marriage brought with it more mysteries. A census search didn't turn up any history for Minnie Wainman. There was no evidence of her previous marriage. Then it was discovered that her maiden name was also Wainman. It was an unusual surname, but a Wainman marrying a Wainman seemed even more unusual — but there it was. The mystery wasn't solved until an obituary for Minnie's younger son Leslie was found. His father was still alive at the time of Leslie's death and his name was Sidney WHITE.

That was why no family history could be found for the Wainman family. Minnie and Sidney White must have divorced and she took custody of her sons and changed all their names back to her maiden name — Wainman. Then things began to make sense again and the White family could be traced back through the census records.

An unusual characteristic possessed by several individuals in this extended Baldwin family tree was that shortly after finding an individual in the records they would then disappear. Theodore's 2nd wife Minnie Hotaling died in 1900, not long after they had married. Then strangest of all: Theodore C. himself died in 1931, his 3rd wife, Minnie, died in 1933, Minnie's son Leslie died in August 1935 and Leslie's wife Agnes predeceased him in death in April 1935. Within four years, four members of the same family had died.

Only four weeks ago she buried her sister Mrs. Cassie Tuckerman after many days of tender care. After the burial March 22 Mr. Baldwin pointed to the lot and said to his wife, then in health, "Minnie, there is where you and I will be some day." She returned to her home for rest.

“Typhoid Fever seized her and in thirty days she died and today two loving and affectionate sisters are at rest but a few feet apart. She was 31 years old and leaves a husband, one son about six, and a sister and a brother to mourn her death. Heaven's gain is our loss.”

This paper is about McKinley families in the Towns of Cicero and Clay of Onondaga County, NY, however, an extensive and very detailed obituary of James A. McKinley of Oswego, NY was too much to pass up without a deeper look. He had been born in Kingston, Ontario, Canada and came to Oswego with his brother William P. McKinley. For many years he lived at 110 West Mohawk Street in Oswego — a street which had a personal connection to the author. My late wife graduated from Oswego State College in 1971. During her last year she and a housemate resided at 102B West Mohawk, at the other end of the block from the McKinley house.

James A. McKinley and William P. McKinley were brothers. James McKinley was missing from the Oswego City Directory 1872 - 1874 which isn't unusual; however, his appearance in the Syracuse City Directory in 1870 is curious. He was also found in the 1870 census living in Syracuse and employed as a blacksmith so it can be certain that the 1870 directory wasn't a mistake. The story behind the relocation of the family to Syracuse and then back to Oswego has not been discovered.

HOME FROM THE PHILIPPINES

Captain Ballin and Wife on Extended Visit

ISLANDS ARE NOW QUIET

Government Provides Healthful Posts for United States Soldiers --- Ballins Are in Love with Honolulu --- Remain Until December

“Captain and Mrs. Alfred G. Ballin of Regan Barracks, province of Albay, Philippine Islands, arrived in Oswego yesterday afternoon and will spend the balance of the summer as guests of Mrs. Ballin’s mother, Mrs. James McKinley, West Ninth and Mohawk streets.

“Captain and Mrs. Ballin left Manila on July 15th, and outside of a few days spent in Honolulu and San Francisco have been traveling constantly to reach this city. In San Francisco they were entertained by George and Frank McKay, sons of James McKay of West Ninth and Utica streets, who are located in that city. They were the first Oswegonians they met since leaving the tropics and all were glad to have a little reunion.

“Mrs. Ballin, who was formerly Miss Louise McKinley, is in excellent health and is in love with the Far East. She will return to the Islands with her husband in December and will also be accompanied by her sister, Miss Sarah McKinley, who will make an extended visit three.

“According to Captain Ballin, who is in charge of a band of Philippine scouts, the spirit of unrest which formerly was the cause of much discontent throughout the group, has calmed and today but one tribe, the Moros, are engaged in warfare.

“The tropical life is hard on members of the Army, numerous field duties being necessary to keep the soldiers in condition in case of an uprising. Soldiers, however, are well provided for by the government and as much as possible are stationed at mountain posts during the warm weather. Regan Barracks, where Captain Ballin is stationed, is one of the prettiest and most healthful posts in the Islands, being located in the mountain foothills. Beautiful drives surround it and it is swept by ocean breezes.

“Both Captain and Mrs. Ballin are infatuated with Honolulu as is nearly everyone, who is fortunate enough to visit that city. Its beautiful shaded streets and beaches and office buildings prove more than attractive and make one want to locate there permanently.

Stowaway Transferred

“The trip over was made in the U. S. Transport Thomas, which had a large passenger list. On board were over 72 children who did much to keep passengers amused. One of the peculiar incidents of the trip was the finding of a stowaway aboard the transport a few days out of Manila. He was a young American and had been leading a nomadic life for two years past. Stranded in Manila he sneaked aboard the transport the night prior to sailing and was forced to make his presence known owing to hunger. He was cared for by the crew. Another stowaway was aboard the Sherman bound for Manila, and when they met in mid-ocean the young men were forced to change ships. The youth from Manila was shipped back on the Sherman and the one from 'Frisco sent back on the Thomas.

“Mr. and Mrs. Ballin brought with them a number of souvenirs of silk and basketry. While they both like the tropical life they are glad to get back to Oswego for a little rest in ‘God’s Country.’”

August 20, 1912, Tuesday Evening, Oswego Daily Times

“Emmett McKinley complained to the Police Commissioners that while unloading flour at Bradt & Draper’s store in West Bridge street on Friday morning last that Patrolman Vickery arrested him and ordered him to report at police headquarters, which he did. His complaint was against Vickery, whom he said was officious and exceeded his authority as there was plenty of room outside of his rig to permit free passage of automobiles or horse-drawn vehicles.

“The question of the right of police to interfere with merchants of those employed by merchants from using the curbs in front of their places of business for the unloading or loading of goods was briefly discussed. President Scheutzow was not acquainted with the traffic rules, he said, and Mr. McKinley was told that the rules of the department require any complaint to be made against a police officer to be in writing. He promised to get one prepared.”

It is not known just how badly he is off, but his friends do not believe that he is dangerously sick, or they would have been notified. DIED IN TRENTON

Mother Mary Edward Had Many Warm Friends in Oswego.

“A telegram received here from Trenton, Ont., today brought news of the death of Mother Mary Edward, for twenty years Superior-General of the order of St. Joseph. Mother Mary Edward was a sister of Captain James A. McKinley, of this city, and had visited here frequently. She was born and raised in Kinston and entered the convent when a young woman. For many years she was stationed at Holyoke, Mass., and had charge of an important work there. Until three or four years ago she was in charge of the House of Providence at Kingston, but relinquished the position and retired to the house of the order at Trenton, where for two years her health had been most precarious.

“Several days ago Captain McKinley received a telegram announcing that his sister’s condition was critical and summoning him to her bedside. He left home last week and was present when death came. Mother Mary Edward was a woman of refinement and culture, and the announcement of her death will be received with sincere sorrow by her many friends in Oswego. Besides Captain McKinley, she is survived by one sister, Mary, of Toronto, and a brother, High, of Philadelphia, Pa.”

OBITUARY

Captain James A. McKinley

“Captain James A. McKinley, one of Oswego’s best known residents died last night (Oct 25th) at his home, 110 West Mohawk street, after a long illness of stomach trouble. Captain McKinley was born in Kingston, Ont., and came to this city when a very young man with his brother, the late William P. McKinley, who was one of the first superintendents of the old Midland railroad. Captain McKinley, was apprenticed to George A. Crotius and learned the blacksmithing trade. He was popular with his associated and was by them elected foreman of Champion Engine Company No. 3, in the days of the Old Volunteer Fire Department. With the expiration of his term of office he was elected foreman of Lightfoot Hose Company No. 2, and held that position when the War of the Rebellion broke out. In 1862, when the 147th N. Y. Volunteers was organized, Captain Patrick Regan was elected Captain of Company I and Captain McKinley was First Lieutenant. Shortly after entering the service Captain Regan resigned and Lieutenant McKinley was named as Captain. Nearly the entire hose company of which he had been foreman joined his company and fought till the end of the war. Captain McKinley was beloved by his men and participated in every engagement in which the Army of the Potomac fought from 1862 until the close of the war in 1865. He fought at Gettysburg, the Wilderness, Cold Harbor, Bowling Green, Mine Run, Fredericksburg, Fairfax Courthouse, Chancellorsville, Falmouth Station, Five Forks, Laurel Hill, Welden railroad, Bethel Church and other places and was never wounded.

“With the close of the war Captain McKinley returned to Oswego and became interested in canal boats. For several years he conducted these boats successfully and retired to take a position, superintending the construction of bridges and culverts on the old Midland railroad at Norwich, where for several years he made his home. Returning to this city he entered the employ of the R. W. & O. (Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg) railroad and was in the company’s blacksmith shop, where he remained until a few years ago, when he resigned, owing to his failing health and has since lived quietly at home.

“Captain McKinley was a good citizen, an indulgent husband and parent and a devout member of St. Mary’s church. He had the respect and esteem of all who knew him. A widow, three sons and four daughters survive, W. A., Emmett, Edward, Kate, Sarah, Mary and Louise, of this city, and one sister, Miss McKinley, of Toronto.”

October 26, 1905, Thursday, The Daily Palladium, Oswego, NY

Note: From another obituary - The funeral was held from St. Mary’s church and was largely attended. Burial was in St. Patrick’s cemetery. From Find A Grave - James McKinley was buried in St. Peter Cemetery and Mausoleum, Oswego, NY.

Jane McKinley's obituary gave the name of her surviving sister, Miss Katherine Reed — which provided Jane's elusive maiden name. The search for Katherine produced three more sisters: Bridget, Elizabeth Reed Slattery and Winifred Reed Cooke; all of who had been born in Ireland. According to the obituaries of three of the ladies they were born in Limerick, Ireland. Two of the obituaries told of the parents bringing the girls to the US in 1848. However, the search for their parents failed to turn up any results. Even as early as 1850 the Reed sisters weren't found to be living with their parents although the family came over from Ireland in 1848. At the time of the 1850 census Jane and Elizabeth were found living with other families and the youngest ones — Winifred, 6 years old and Katherine, 4 years old — were not to be found at all. If the parents were still alive these youngest sisters would have been with them.

An extensive Find A Grave search failed to turn up any individuals named Reed born 1810±10 and who died during 1847-1850 at any location near Oswego, NY.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Elizabeth R. Slattery

"Elizabeth R., widow of Patrick W. Slattery, died this morning (Dec 26th) at 8:30 o'clock at her home, 172 West Sixth street. She was stricken on Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock with cerebral hemorrhage. Mrs. Slattery was born a few miles from the city of Limerick, Ireland, 84 years ago (1833) and came here with her parents when four years old (1837) and had made her home here for 69 years (1848). She was a member of St. Mary's church, of the Altar and rosary Societies and the League of the Sacred Heart of that parish. For the past fifteen years Mrs. Slattery had suffered severely from rheumatism and had seldom left her home in these years. She is survived by a son, and three daughters, James P. Slattery, Mary, Elizabeth and Anna R. Slattery and a sister, Katherine Reid all of this city. This is the third of Miss Reid's sisters to die within the year, the others being, Mrs. James A. McKinley of this city, and Mrs. Winifred Cooke of St. Louis, Mo."

December 26, 1917, Wednesday Evening, Oswego Daily Times, Oswego, NY

Note: Elizabeth and her sister Catherine's obituaries both state that the ladies came to the US with their parents. However the year of their arrival was not 1837 as mentioned in Elizabeth's obit. In the 1910 census the Reed sisters gave their years of immigration: Elizabeth (1848), Katherine (1848) and Jane Reed McKinley (1849). Katherine Reed, the youngest sister, was born in Ireland in 1846. So it appears that the Reed family left Ireland with the beginning the Great Famine.

OBITUARY

"Miss Reed was born in Limerick, Ireland, coming here when a child with her parents where she had continued to reside. She was a member of St. Mary's church and was a woman of many fine qualities.

"Besides the Misses Slattery, Miss Reed is survived by several other nieces and nephews. Arrangements for the funeral are incomplete as yet."

In the obituaries of Elizabeth, Jane and Katherine it stated that they had been born in Limerick. Jane's baptism record was the first to be found and her baptism year was the closest to her birth year estimated from the census records. No additional baptism records could be found with the parents Michael Reidy and Mary Browne. The mother's name was dropped and the search continued with just the father, Michael Reidy. Two more Limerick baptism records were found but the mothers weren't Mary Browne and the baptism year and the census birth years were further apart. These searches should have been sure fire successes — but they weren't.

* For 1860 the 3rd Ward of Oswego was searched page by page (129 images) - Jane, Winifred and Katherine were not found

The ages found for the Reed sisters come from different census records although most were from Oswego, NY. The character “—” indicates that the census for that year was searched but the person was not found. In the early years the sisters were not found residing together and they were never found as a family living with their parents. In fact their parents were never found in any census even though it is known that the family came to the US in 1848. Winifred Reed Cook moved to St. Louis, MO and wouldn't have been found in the 1875, 1892 and 1905 NYS census records.

The best guess that can be made of this situation is that the family immigrated to the US from Ireland in 1848 and most likely landed in New York City. They probably traveled to Oswego as a family but why they chose Oswego is not known. Sometime between the arrivals of the family in Oswego and 1850 both of the parents apparently passed away. Only Elizabeth and Jane were found in the 1850 census and they were living with other families. The oldest daughter, Bridget (b. 1830) and the two youngest daughters, Winifred (b. 1844) and Katherine (b. 1846), were not found in the 1850 census. Given their ages it is possible that the youngest daughters were with their older sister, Bridget.

Immigration Records

The Reed family traveled together when they came to the US in 1848. This should have made for an easy search of the Immigration records. Two parents and five daughters: Bridget (1830), Elizabeth (1835), Jane (1836), Winifred (1844) and Katherine (1846). It was initially assumed that the family arrived at New York City. The first search was for Bridget Reed over the period 1847-1850 and 16 Bridget Reeds were found but none had been traveling with known family members. A second search was conducted for Elizabeth Reed over the same time period and only 4 were found and again they were not traveling with any known family members.

A quick search of Canada arrival ports over 1846-1850 produced no records for a Bridget Reed. A search over 1846-1850 was made for Elizabeth Reed. Four such passengers arrived in Canadian ports in 1847-1848 but they weren't traveling with any family members. Searches for the remaining sisters — Jane, Winifred and Katherine — also failed to turn up the family traveling together.

In summary no records of the Reed family immigration to the US have been found.

The Search for Nellie McKinley - Davenport's 3rd Wife

Fred Davenport's 3rd wife was a lady named Nellie McKinley. Her obituary was discovered while looking for an obituary for Fred Davenport. Her surviving daughter, Mrs. Albert Smith was from a previous marriage. The question is whether Nellie's McKinley name was her married name or was it her maiden name. The first search was to find her daughter and determine this daughter's maiden name.

Mrs. Nellie Davenport

"Moravia — Mrs. Nellie McKinley Davenport, 72, wife of Fred Davenport of Main Street, died Sunday night (Aug 7th) at her home after an illness of three months. Surviving are the husband and one daughter, Mrs. Albert Smith of Watkins Glen.

"Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning from the home of Rowland Wade, 8 South Main Street. Rev. Ruwet Bell, pastor of Methodist Episcopal Church, will officiate." [Burial was at Dundee.]

Nellie McKinley has not been found in a single census. A search was made in the 1900 census for Cayuga Co. for a mother named Nellie (with no surname), born 1866±10 years with a daughter named Varona — only one family was found. In the 1900 census for Niagara Falls, NY there was a John and Nellie Cole (b. 1862) with a daughter Varna born in 1888. These aren't the people being searched for.

AREA DEATHS

“WATKINS GLEN — Albert Charles Smith, 75, of Burdette RFD 1, who owned and operated the former Glen City Garage, died Thursday (Sept 1st).

“Services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Brown Funeral Home here. The Rev. William M. J. Cartinella will officiate and burial will be in Hector Union Cemetery.

“Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Esther Reynolds Smith, and a son, Richard Smith, of this village; a daughter, Mrs. Rhoda Rolik of Bay Village, Ohio, and two grandchildren.

“Active in community life, Mr. Smith was a member of the First Presbyterian Church. Corning Fish & Game Club, Bath Rod & Gun Club, Fur, Fin and Feathers, Inc., of Elmira, and the Community Conservation Club of Odessa.”

September 3, 1966, Saturday, The Post-Standard, Syracuse, NY

Note: Esther was Albert's 2nd wife. The children Rhoda and Richard were from Albert's 1st wife Verona. There was no mention of his first wife in his obituary.

Possible solution: McKinley might be Nellie's maiden name. She was married before her marriage to Fred Davenport and during that earlier marriage she gave birth to Verona who later married Albert Smith. Then that first marriage ended in some manner and when Nellie married a 2nd time she used her maiden name. Therefore Nellie's maiden name and that of her daughter Varona would not be the same. However a single Nellie McKinley could not be found in the census records.
